

Aquaforest Privacy Policy

This privacy policy sets out how Aquaforest uses and protects any personal information that you provide. We have provided details on where we obtain this information and how we are using it. We have shown that we are using this information in a way that you would reasonably expect, that we are securing your data and we have outlined your rights. We have also made reference to The EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

Background

Personal data

The EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) replaces the Data Protection Directive 95/46/EC and was designed to harmonize data privacy laws across Europe, and to protect all EU citizens from privacy and data breaches in an increasingly data-driven world.

The GDPR applies to 'personal data' meaning any information relating to an identifiable person who can be directly or indirectly identified in particular by reference to an identifier.

This definition provides for a wide range of personal identifiers to constitute personal data, including name, identification number, location data or online identifier, reflecting changes in technology and the way organisations collect information about people.

Aquaforest is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. Should we ask you to provide certain information by which you can be identified when using our website, and in interactions with our company, then you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement.

Outline of what data we obtain, examples of how we use it, why we need it and who has access to it

Aquaforest may gather certain information about our visitors to our Website:

WEBSITE

1. Non-personally identifiable information i.e. we cannot link the information to a named individual.

When visitors come to our web site, we collect information via Google Analytics, Mousestats and cookies. The purpose is to improve visitor experiences, ensuring website content is relevant and for research purposes relating to improving our website performance and website success. We analyse how the website is used, e.g. which pages of the web site were visited, cursor movement on a page, and which hyperlinks were "clicked", Google analytics and Mousestats collects approximate location (IP address) internet service providers, including browser information and language setting. Google Analytics will also report on type of device used e.g. pc, mobile, tablet; browser software used; operating systems used.

2. Cookies

How we use cookies: A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences. We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyse data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system. Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us. You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.

3. Personally identifiable information:

Aquaforest may gather personally identifiable information such as emails, name, business phone number, an indication of job role or title, associated Company name and brief associated data where relevant in order to fulfil our duties, agreements and to carry out our business. Details below:

Other examples of interactions with us in which we may gather personal data

When a Company becomes an Aquaforest Sales Lead or a customer, a purchaser of our software or service

A Lead or an Account is created by us in Salesforce, a CRM with whom we have a written agreement as our Processor. We work with the Dublin, Ireland based Salesforce office.

For the purpose of carrying out our business and supporting the customer pre and post sales we have a legitimate and contractual need, to know the key people, Contact(s), to communicate with in the Company.

In the Lead or Account, we record the relevant named contact(s) with business contact email or business phone number and a business address. As well as relevant associated information, all of which is required for legitimate business reasons and will also be used for, for example:

- Transactional, contractual and/or legal reasons
- Software license delivery, license and payment record tracking
- To fulfil our support agreements and tracking of Technical Support and Support and Maintenance Cover (SMC), SMC status, SMC renewals reminders, software update information etc.
- Customer service and communications
- Internal record keeping responsibilities
- To provide Technical Support
- To better understand your Company's needs
- Provide an individualised service
- Customer service
- Market research

We would be happy to substitute another contact name if preferred and can anonymize the original contact

An analogue copy of quotes and invoices and online sales receipts are kept in a secured location within the office or secure archive location.

Email

If you contact us directly by email your email address and content may be retained for as long as is legitimately necessary and may be transferred to our CRM if relevant and related to a purchase or presale discussion. Email is hosted by Cobweb based in the UK and is encrypted during transmission and at rest.

Technical Support

If you contact us for Technical Support pre or post sales, details of your name, contact details, Company name and support issue and any other relevant details will be logged in Zendesk, a CRM. Zendesk is based in the USA.

Data is retained for the purposes of e.g.:

- Fulfilling Technical Support contracts
- Tracking of Technical Support
- Customer service and communications, pre and post sales
- improving our products and services
- helping improve Technical Support efficiency and effectiveness,
- Improve our FAQ knowledge base
- Assist with staff training

Job and work experience applicants

The information provided by you during the application and interview process will only be used for the purpose of progressing your application, or to fulfil legal or regulatory requirements if necessary.

The information you provide will be held securely by us and/or our data processors whether the information is in electronic or analogue format.

We will use the other information you provide to assess your suitability for the role you have applied for.
